Service Learning Grants Available! Grants up to $500

The Youth Fund Advisory Committee has grants available for service learning projects. Teachers in Lorain County schools are eligible to apply. The application is available on our website youthfund.peoplewhocare.org

Deadline November 1

What is the Youth Fund?

The Youth Fund Advisory Committee, created in 1998, is made up of 8th through 12th graders from schools across Lorain County and is an Affiliate Fund of the Community Foundation of Lorain County. The Youth Fund empowers youth to be involved in decision making, to be active participants in community service and leadership, and to take part in awarding grants that will improve the quality of life in Lorain County. Youth Fund grantmaking has awarded over $123,000 to Lorain County teachers and nonprofits serving youth.

Founded in 1980, the Community Foundation of Lorain County is made up of more than 639 endowed Funds valued at approximately $136 million dollars. On average, $5.6 million is awarded annually in grant support to non-profit organizations serving Lorain County.

IDEAS FOR CONNECTING SERVICE LEARNING TO THE CURRICULUM

(Excerpted from ODE Service Learning Training Resource Guide.
Many can apply to multiple curriculum areas.)

Language Arts

- Record favorite children's stories or original stories on tape and donate tapes to local day-care centers or school for the blind.
- Tutor younger students to promote reading.

Art

- Make pottery with peers who have disabilities.
- Design posters that draw attention to particular community issues/needs.

Math

- Create a mathematics board game for younger children and share it with school or public library.
- Raise and keep records of funds/expenditures for a local cause (of their choosing), such as replacing park equipment or collecting donations for a local food pantry.

Physical Education/Health

- Participate in Special Olympics programs.
- Organize recreational after-school programs for younger children.

Technology/Media

- Write and produce weekly program on recycling and other environmental issues.
- Research and then produce videotapes on safety related issues.

Science

- Adopt a nearby lake, river, wetlands, or stream for research and pollution testing.
- Work with the local humane societies, zoos, or nature centers to care for injured and healthy animals.

Consumer and Family Science

- Plan and prepare nutritious meals for a nearby shelter or retirement center.
- Collect and repair clothing and household goods and send them to areas in need of disaster relief.

History

- Interview elderly citizens about their lives and experiences, then compile a community history.
- Develop walking tours of historical neighborhoods.

Music & Drama

- Make a collection of the music of a particular period in history or from a particular ethnic group.
- Write and perform puppet show or skit on the importance of being drug free for younger students.

Social Studies

- Become pen pals with students in other countries.
- Learn about homelessness by volunteering at a local shelter.

Industrial Technology

- Plant gardens on empty plots near the school.
- Help weatherize the homes of low income elderly.

Service Learning Grant Application

To: Lorain County Educators Gr. K-12

From: Youth Fund Advisory Committee affiliate of Community Foundation of Lorain County

Re: Service Learning Grants (maximum $500) for Lorain County teachers

Service Learning Grants are available to Lorain County teachers grades K-12. Grants will be awarded for Service Learning projects to be completed in the current academic year, September– June. “Service Learning” links community service (e.g. collecting food for the needy) to curriculum areas (e.g. developing math skills, studying nutritional standards, researching social problems and impact of poverty).

Application Deadline is November 1

These Service Learning grants are made possible through the Youth Fund of the Community Foundation of Lorain County. Created in 1980, the Community Foundation continues to make grants from over 400 endowment funds to non-profit organizations serving Lorain County. The Youth Fund (YF) was begun in 1998 to encourage philanthropy among young people. The YF Advisory Committee of students, grades 8-12, represents the diverse population of Lorain County and works with foundation staff to learn about community resources and how youth can make a difference.
